Price Cutting Spreading To The East Today

By UNITED PRESS

ENNIS, Ireland, Aug. 15.—Eamonn De Valera, arch rebel of Ireland, surrendered to Free State troops and was taken to the military barracks under arrest. Just previous to his arrest De Valera flung himself from a platform from which he was addressing a political meeting. He lost consciousness during the stampede caused by the appearance of troops in an armored car who fired volleys over the heads of the crowd. He had only been speaking two minutes when the troops appeared. It is not yet known whether he will be detained permanently.

Half Million Acres Bought In Old Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 15.—Canadian American interests plan the investment of millions of dollars in Mexico, it is announced, now that recognition seems imminent with the end of the conference. Colonel Jacob Ruppert, of New York, American League club, heads the project. Half a million acres of land have been obtained in Yucatan.

NEW PRESIDENT CONSIDERING DOMESTIC PROBLEM

By PAUL R. MALLON

(United Press Staff Correspondent) NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—President Coolidge, through his administration agencies, moves today in handling his first domestic question—the anthracite coal strike threatening for September first.

John Hays Hammond, chairman of the United States Coal Commission, will tell the differing miners and operators just how the Government is stacking the cards to protect the public against a fuel famine and offer the services of the Government for mediation.

Hammond has received his instructions from Mr. Coolidge. They are:

1. The Government, while not attempting to force the two opposing factions into agreement, will lend its services through the Coal Commission to arbitrate the difficulties and press for settlement.
2. Public needs will be protected at all costs and fuel substitutes will be provided to consumers through Government channels, thus breaking the force of the strike.

Hammond meets the miners and operators at the Hotel Pennsylvania here at 3 p. m.

The miners leaders are professing to be adamant as ever on the question of the "check-off" now rapidly becoming the chief bone of contention in the dispute.

Before leaving Atlantic City to come here for the party, John L. Lewis and his associates made clear once more their absolute insistence upon the system whereby union dues are deducted from the miners' wages by the companies. A statement issued by S. D. Warriner, spokesman for the operators, indicated the owners are still opposed to this "check off" but are now willing to submit to arbitration.

Today's meeting will serve to put before the commission the conflicting views of the two sides. Only a fortnight remains before the existing agreement expires—at the end of which time, if agreement has not been reached, a strike in the anthracite fields is predicted.

The commission is prepared to urge a settlement and if this proves impossible to report back to President Coolidge, who authorized its invitation to the miners and operators to meet.

When the last conference of miners and operators at Atlantic City broke up they had agreed upon many points previously in dispute, but not upon a wage increase asked by the miners, nor upon the "check off."

Negro Held On Murder Charge

HOUSTON, Texas, Aug. 15.—A negro, said to be wanted for the murder of a policeman in Shreveport, La., last June, was being held by authorities here today.

The black was taken into custody last night by officers who found him working in a tailor shop under an assumed name. He admits his identity, police said, but denies killing the officer.

The No. A-3 has a sand record of 2952-54 feet.

"Cheap Politics" Exploits Public In Gasoline War

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 15.—The public is being exploited by "cheap politics and bad business," in the gasoline price cut war, Austin Peay, Governor of Tennessee, declared today.

"By placing the price so low, independent companies will be forced out of business and the whole industry will be in the hands of a monopoly," the Governor said.

At the end of about six months this sub-committee tendered their report to the committee of the whole. After several conferences and discussions among themselves, the charter was ratified and ordered placed before the people for consideration. The charter was then printed in pamphlet form and mailed to the citizens of the city, the election having been called for August the 14th.

Tulsa Is Now Under Martial Law But You "Just Can Tell It"

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 15.—A stranger in town would probably not know that Tulsa is under martial law and that a State investigation into abductions and whippings is under full sway by the adjutant-general of the State, backed up by scores of soldiers.

Although General B. H. Markham, conducting the investigation, refused to talk at length he did admit that as yet no additional information has been obtained other than that already known at the Governor's office.

Police and Sheriff's forces were permitted to function as usual but the heads of the two departments must report to the officer in command.

Streets were cleared of unnecessary traffic at 11:30 last night and citizens who could not give a good account of themselves were sent home by the soldiers and police.

Indignation meetings against martial law by citizens were prohibited by order of the guards.

New Charter Is Rejected At The Polls Tuesday

In the elections held here Tuesday, the proposed new charter for Mexia was rejected by a vote of 176 for, and 373 against. The total vote cast was 553 votes. W. B. Kendrick was in charge of the election.

The heaviest voting took place late in the afternoon. By 3:00 o'clock only about 300 votes had been polled, at which time a steady stream of citizens began to appear and voting was rather brisk until the hour of closing at 7:00 o'clock. A large number of those voting in the afternoon were ladies, while after usual business hours, employees were given the opportunity to vote and business men accompanied their wives to the ballot box in their automobiles.

Counting proceeded along with voting, so that the results were known a few minutes after the polls closed. Quite a number of citizens waited near the City hall to get the returns.

The overwhelming victory against the charter was received with surprise by both sides. The election day passed rather quietly, however, much interest was manifest, and the issues considered in genuine neighborliness.

The Charter Commission was elected by the people last December, eight months ago. Fifteen citizens were named on the commission. This body appointed three of their members, of

NEW COALITION CABINET NOW IN POWER FIRMLY

By CARL D. GROUT

United Press Staff Correspondent BYELIN, Aug. 15.—Chancellor Stresemann's new coalition Government appeared firmly in power today after its presentation to the Reichstag yesterday and a strong vote of confidence of that body.

A majority of the middle ground of public opinion seemed in full accord with the government and ready to back it against the Communist and extreme right-wing forces—the only groups in open opposition.

Meanwhile the internal situation showed signs of calming, despite new outbreaks yesterday in Aachen, Aix-la-Chapelle and vicinity, in which ten were killed and thousands of homes and businesses in the strikes in the chemical and electrical industries at Frankfurt.

The new Chancellor's opening speech in the Reichstag, during which he boldly downed Communist meddling showed the new government will follow out the same broad line as the present cabinet of Dr. Wilhelm Cuno.

Stresemann declared himself in favor of a moderation of the political and economic situation as an indispensable preliminary to restoration of reparations payments, continuation of peace resistance, which he said, was fully justified in the last Reichstag vote to France and an interim loan to provide funds for adjustment of wages as demanded by the workers.

The Chancellor appealed to the Reichstag to reduce the food ration, admitting the Government could not expect the workers to remain quiet until they were assured an adequate food supply.

In a general interview, following his appearance in the Reichstag, Stresemann told newspapermen Paris is decided if it changes the channel of German Government's indicated

Bryan Rotary Due In Mexia This Afternoon

Members of the Bryan Rotary club are scheduled to reach Mexia on the 3:41 train from that city this afternoon. They will be met at the station by local Rotarians wearing caps and arm badges signifying their membership. The party will be met in automobiles and conducted to Gusher Park to witness the game between the local club and the Waco Indians. After the game, a tour of the city and oil fields will be made, ending up at the Colored Playgrounds, where the visitors tonight will stage the program of the week for the Mexia Rotary club and their ladies. The event promises to be one of rare enjoyment and one that will result in binding these neighboring Rotarians closer together for the betterment of the section.

The entire party will later return to the city, where they will be entertained in the private park of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Hughes.

Arch Rebel Of Ireland Is Arrested On Stump

DALLAS, Aug. 15.—Gasoline price cutting spread to the east when the seaboard companies announced reductions of one and a half to two cents per gallon. The Standard Oil cut of 8.6 cents remains in effect in twelve mid-west states, saving consumers $1,000,000 daily. The governors of several states scored the price war as an attempt by the Standard to eliminate competition by crushing the independents. Governor Donahey of Ohio appealed to President Coolidge, charging the big companies with discriminating against Ohio by selling lower in the surrounding states.

MRS. HARDING GIVES LADDIE BOY AWAY

Unable to have Laddie Boy, her husband's pet Airedale dog, near her, a constant reminder of her happier days, when her husband was alive, Mrs. Warren G. Harding has presented the famous dog to Harry Barker, the Secret Service man who had been detailed to guard her while she was First Lady of the Land. The dog, which had been presented to Mr. Harding by Charles W. Quetsche, of Toledo, O., was as much a pet of Mrs. Harding as he was of the late President, but Mrs. Harding felt she could not stand having the splendid animal with her after her husband's death.

In commenting on the shallow oil possibilities in this particular area, Mr. Anderson mentioned the fact that the Corsicana shallow fields had been producing for almost thirty years, and that the area embracing the territory in question had never been tested for shallow oil.

Shallow Field Believed Near Ramsey Lease

According to an opinion recently expressed by Mr. Anderson of the U. S. Tex Oil Corporation the new oil territory opened up by the big well on the S. D. Ramsey lease, south of the

Mildred road, in the Powell field, also bears great promise for shallow oil production. He declared that indications of oil had been encountered at various shallow depths in the deep well the company had just completed. Oil showings have been made in both the U. S. Tex well and the Smith well, offsetting it. Mr. Anderson said the strata of oil and gas showed up between 1,100 and 1,700 feet. A large quantity of oil found its way into the hole and was forced up between the

DEMOCRACY SPEAKS

The voice of democracy in Mexia has been heard. It spoke in no vague or indistinct terms at the polls in the municipal charter election Tuesday. During the last few days preceding the election, it was apparent that the new charter would fail to pass. At the time however, the overwhelming odds of more than 2 to 1 against it was a matter of surprise both to those who favored its immediate adoption and those who rejected it.

The results were a victory for Mayor Watson and an endorsement of his attitude on matters of public policy and government rather than opposition to the principle involved in a new charter for Mexia. The vote was in no wise a repudiation of the work of the splendid citizens who formed the charter commission.
Many who voted against the charter in all likelihood would like to see Mexia operating under a different system of local government, but the time was opportune for them to assert that if they are to be governed by one man, they want to select that man themselves.

The public, today is in no frame of mind to desire running the risk of extra burdens of taxation. Although the new charter possibly was misunderstood regarding the part of it referring to the rate of savings and doubt. There are questions raised, too, interesting to the people waiting more time on the entire proposition.
That which was not forth-rightly stated with an idea of fairness and did the natural out of 519 voted against
it. It is constantly confront Mexia with victories or defeats but it is known that happiness is in selfishness but in service;
it is to be but in love.

With malice toward none and good will to all, every citizen to whom Mexia is dear, now, should lend a hand cordially and in true fellowship and strive persistently for the betterment of Mexia. Let all Mexia remember that the men and women to make a city are themselves made by obedience to God, by obedience to duty and obedience to truth proving all things and holding fast to that which is good. Obedience is but self government in action and he can never govern a city who does not first govern himself.

Now the water situation is again approaching.

greatly they had added to the splendid appearance of Mexia.

HELP

I want a mechanic with a good record
To do a little work on a second hand Ford.
There ain't much the matter as you see below;
It's just contrary and I can't make it go.
The front wheels wobble and one rear wheel squeaks.
The fenders rattle and the gas tank leaks,
The cap for the radiator won't stay on,
And a part of the carburetor is lost and gone.

There's a hump in the axle caused by rotten steel
And something is the matter with the steering wheel.
When I pull off the road and try to get back
The whole thing reverses and I fly the track.
The cushions are worn till the springs stick through,
And gouge all the seat of your pants off of you.
The spark plugs are dirty and connections bad
And a noisier motor no Ford ever had.

The crank shaft is crooked and the cylinders scored
The transmission rattles 'gainst the lower floor board
The clutch won't hold and the brake bands slip,
And it takes a barrel of oil for a nine mile trip.
The wind shield is broken and the lights are dim
And spokes all loose from riding the rim,
The battery is weak and the starter won't start,
And the rear end brows like it's coming apart.

Just fix up the things that I've spoken about,
Never mind the tires—they're all worn out;
Fact that's about all that really matters
Except the hood that shimmies and chatters.
There ain't much to do as you see from above,
So fix me up quick and give me a shove,
A barrel of oil and a quart of gas—
Gang-way, Packards—let me pass.

—Patterson.

Gushers Swamp Waco Indians In Game Here Tuesday

Waco Manager Protests Game In The Seventh

The Gushers defeated the Waco Indians on the local lot yesterday in a game that was full of wrangling between players of both teams and umpires. Manager Dupuy protested the game in the seventh inning on a decision by Umpire Hill on a ball that was hit for a third base line.

The feature of the game was the playing of Don Flynn, erstwhile first base of the Indians. Donald played left field until the umpire sent Stone Strickland out of the park with a ten dollar fine on him and then he took up the work at short. He held this position until the eighth inning and then he relieved Red Hill in the box and tickled the fans with his many antics. He shared honors with Joe L. at the hot corner and made every one perfect as could be seen going White of Marlin a race. He is now playing a much better game than "Old R. Lable" Frank Haley with the Corsicana Gumbo Bats.

Hub Norton put the game on ice for the Gushers in the seventh inning when with a drop ball he lifted one of Red Hill's legs over the right field wall. He created.

The Gushers have two more games at home and then they go to the Red-socks. Two more games in two days.

Tide of Potential Mary Pickfords No Longer Surging Against the Walls Of Hollywood—Problem Is Easier

By ROBERT A. DONALDSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
CHAPTER I.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 15.—The department stores of Los Angeles are filled with pretty girl clerks who thought they were potential Mary Pickfords. Many a "second Maria Swanson" is now chomping gum and punching a typewriter, as a stenographer in the office of a studio where she first went hoping to win her way to fame and fortune on the silver screen.

Fortunately, however, the tide of screen struck girls who come from all parts of the country to Hollywood have been checked.

Despite reports from tourists that everywhere girl likers are "on their way to Hollywood," less of them are arriving than ever before in the history of the movie game.

Apparently the recent widespread publicity given to the small chance that a girl has to win fame in the movies and the starvation facts which confront her on arriving in Hollywood have taken effect.

Swamped With Girls

During the war and after the war up to the big movie slump of 1920, Hollywood and Los Angeles were literally swamped with would-be movie queens. New companies were springing up like mushrooms, and many of these aspirants to film fame actually found places where they obtained some degree of recognition. In some cases they became stars.

But the "roaring twenties" have gone, and the movies are now on a different and very much more efficient basis.

Casting directors and welfare workers are unanimous in declaring that, with the greatest talent and the best of looks and the rarest of luck, no unknown girl nowadays can hope to make even a small reputation in Hollywood inside of two years.

The Y. W. C. A., the city police mothers, and similar organizations obtained many of them jobs in department stores, in stores and offices, or, if they knew typing, as stenographers. Others were rescued by friends or parents who sent the price of a return ticket back home.

Since that time producers have aimed to spread the truth over the country that the average, unknown girl has only about one chance in a thousand to make a living in the movies.

"Our problems have greatly decreased in the last two years," said one police mother. "Before that morals were more lax in the movies, and besides, so many girls came who, unable to make a living in the movies, took in desperation what they believed to be an easier way. Now movie morals have improved somewhat, and the girls are arriving in smaller numbers and I believe are of a better type."

For the first time in the history

of motion pictures, the colorful life of southeastern Roumania—the home of the Tartar and gypsy—has been filmed in "The Law of the Lawless," Dorothy Dalton's latest Paramount picture, which will be on view of the National theatre for two days commencing today.

Gypsy scenes have been filmed but never in the colorful setting of Dobrudja, the little-known and romantic Roumanian province which numbers many native gypsy tribes among its inhabitants. Konrad Berecovic, a gypsy author, wrote the story of "The Law of the Lawless" for the screen from his own personal experience in his native land.

Berecovic's story tells of a Tartar girl, daughter of an impoverished householder, who is sold on the auction block to pay her father's debt. She is bought by a gypsy chief who marries her by the colorful gypsy ceremony, but who respects her dislike of him.

The girl's Tartar sweetheart attempts to rescue her but proves himself a coward in the crisis while the gypsy chieftain shows himself a fair and courageous fighter. The girl's liking for her Tartar lover gives way to a new love for the gypsy. Their chief captured by the Tartars, the gypsies, led by the girl wife, attack the Tartar village in a fierce hand-to-hand fight. The money lender who sold the girl meets his death, the gypsy chief conquers the Tartar youth in a fierce struggle in a blazing minaret and the girl proves her love for her husband. Peace brings renewed prosperity for her father and friendly relations between the warring factions.

Romance, drama and stirring action are packed into every scene of the story. Dorothy Dalton gives a superb characterization of the hot-headed, high-spirited Tartar girl and she is ably supported by Theodore Kosloff in the role of the Tartar lover and Charles de Roche as the gypsy chief. The latter makes his first American appearance in this picture. Tully Marshall is also featured.

LOG RAFT IS WEATHER PROFFIT
BONIFACE, Mich.—Only a lake full of cedar logs; but the people of this city will bet their last cent on it as an accurate barometer of the weather.

During the last fifteen years, as far back to the time when cedar logs were first dumped into Bass lake, along whose shores Boniface is located, this barometer has never been known to fail, citizens say.

Bass Lake has for many years had millions of feet of cedar logs floating in it. These logs were cut by the Boniface Lumber company and dumped into the lake until the sawmill was ready for them. The water keeps them from rotting.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Limestone County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon G. F. Lindsey by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 77th Judicial District; but if there be no newspaper published in said Judicial District, then in a newspaper published in the nearest District to said 77th Judicial District, to appear at a regular term of the Justice's Court of Precinct No. 4, Limestone County, Texas, to be held at the town of Mexia, in said Limestone County, on the 11th day of September, 1928, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 19th day of July, 1928, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 798, wherein W. D. Pittman, a resident of Limestone County, Texas, is plaintiff and G. F. Lindsey, a non-resident of the State of Texas, is defendant, plaintiff's demand being for the sum of $137.55, due upon claim for breach of warranty. Plaintiff avers that for a valuable consideration defendant, on the 30th day of May, A. D. 1922, conveyed to him, by deed of said date, a certain lot or parcel of land, situated in the town of Mexia, Limestone County, Texas, being Lot No. 7, in Block No. 23, of said town, and by said deed of conveyance defendant bound himself, his heirs, executors and administrators to warrant and forever defend, all and singular, the said premises unto this plaintiff, his heirs, and assigns, against every person whatsoever lawfully claiming or to claim the same or any part thereof. That after purchasing said land and after defendant had so bound himself, plaintiff discovered for the first time that said land was incumbered with a lien for taxes due the State of Texas, and the county of Limestone in the sum of $75.00, including taxes, penalties and interest, and with a lien for taxes due the city of Mexia, a municipal corporation, in the sum of $87.50, and with a lien for taxes due the independent school district of Mexia in the sum of $25.00, aggregating the sum of $137.55, which sums plaintiff was compelled to pay, to prevent the enforcement of said liens and the loss of his said land, which plaintiff paid on the 4th day of June, A. D. 1928, to his damage in the sum of $137.55; that by reason of the premises defendant became liable and promised to pay plaintiff the said aggregate sum of money, which defendant has failed and refused and still fails and refuses to do. Plaintiff prays judgment for his damages, with interest thereon from the 4th day of June A. D. 1928, at the rate of 6% per annum, for costs of suit, general and special relief. Plaintiff further alleges that though defendant is a non-resident of the State of Texas, he has effects belonging to him in this state.

Price Cutting Spreading To The East Today

By UNITED PRESS

ENNIS, Ireland, Aug. 15.—Eamonn De Valera, arch rebel of Ireland, surrendered to Free State troops and was taken to the military barracks under arrest. Just previous to his arrest De Valera flung a bomb from a platform from which he was addressing a political meeting. He lost consciousness during the stampede caused by the appearance of troops in an armored car who fired volleys over the heads of the crowd. He had only been speaking two minutes when the troops appeared. It is not yet known whether he will be detained permanently.

Half Million Acres Bought In Old Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 15.—Canadian American interests plan the investment of millions of dollars in Mexico, it is announced, now that recognition seems imminent with the end of the conference. Colonel Jacob Ruppert, of New York, American League club, heads the project. Half a million acres of land have been obtained in Yucatan.

NEW PRESIDENT CONSIDERING DOMESTIC PROBLEM

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—President Coolidge, through his administration agencies, moves today in handling his first domestic question—the anthracite coal strike threatening for September first.

John Hays Hammond, chairman of the United States Coal Commission, will tell the differing miners and operators just how the Government is stacking the cards to protect the public against a fuel famine and offer the services of the Government for mediation.

Hammond has received his instructions from Mr. Coolidge. They are:

1. The Government, while not attempting to force the two opposing factions into agreement, will lend its services through the Coal Commission to arbitrate the difficulties and press for settlement.
2. Public needs will be protected at all costs and fuel substitutes will be provided to consumers through Government channels, thus breaking the force of the strike.

Hammond meets the miners and operators at the Hotel Pennsylvania here at 3 p. m.

The miners leaders are professing to be adamant as ever on the question of the "check-off" now rapidly becoming the chief bone of contention in the dispute.

Before leaving Atlantic City to come here for the parley, John L. Lewis and his associates made clear once more their absolute insistence upon the system whereby union dues are deducted from the miners' wages by the companies. A statement issued by S. D. Warriner, spokesman for the operators, indicated the owners are still opposed to this "check off" but are now willing to submit to arbitration.

Today's meeting will serve to put before the commission the conflicting views of the two sides. Only a fortnight remains before the existing agreement expires—at the end of which time, if agreement has not been reached, a strike in the anthracite fields is predicted.

The commission is prepared to urge a settlement and if this proves impossible to report back to President Coolidge, who authorized its invitation to the miners and operators to meet.

When the last conference of miners and operators at Atlantic City broke up they had agreed upon many points previously in dispute, but not upon a wage increase asked by the miners, nor upon the "check off."

Tulsa Is Now Under Martial Law But You "Just Can Tell It"

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 15.—A stranger in town would probably not know that Tulsa is under martial law and that a State investigation into abductions and whippings is under full sway by the adjutant-general of the State, backed up by scores of soldiers.

Although General B. H. Markham, conducting the investigation, refused to talk at length he did admit that as yet no additional information has been obtained other than that already known at the Governor's office.

Police and Sheriff's forces were permitted to function as usual but the heads of the two departments must report to the officer in command. Streets were cleared of unnecessary traffic at 11:30 last night and citizens who could not give a good account of themselves were sent home by the soldiers and police.

Indignation meetings against martial law by citizens were prohibited by order of the guards.

New Charter Is Rejected At The Polls Tuesday

In the elections held here Tuesday, the proposed new charter for Mexia was rejected by a vote of 176 for, and 373 against. The total vote cast was 553 votes. W. B. Kendrick was in charge of the election.

The heaviest voting took place late in the afternoon. By 3:00 o'clock only about 300 votes had been polled, at which time a steady stream of citizens began to appear and voting was rather brisk until the hour of closing at 7:00 o'clock. A large number of those voting in the afternoon were ladies, while after usual business hours, employees were given the opportunity to vote and business men accompanied their wives to the ballot box in their automobiles.

Counting proceeded along with voting, so that the results were known a few minutes after the polls closed. Quite a number of citizens waited near the City hall to get the returns.

The overwhelming victory against the charter was received with surprise by both sides. The election day passed rather quietly, however, much interest was manifest, and the issues considered in genuine neighborliness.

The Charter Commission was elected by the people last December, eight months ago. Fifteen citizens were named on the commission. This body appointed three of their members, of which Judge W. M. White, was made chairman, to draft the charter.

"Cheap Politics" Exploits Public In Gasoline War

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 15.—The public is being exploited by "cheap politics and bad business," in the gasoline price cut war, Austin Peay, Governor of Tennessee, declared today.

At the end of about six months this sub-committee tendered their report to the committee of the whole. After several conferences and discussions among themselves, the charter was ratified and ordered placed before the people for consideration. The charter was then printed in pamphlet form and mailed to the citizens of the city, the election having been called for August the 14th.

No relief is in sight and University employees must discount their warrants at 5 per cent.

Arch Rebel Of Ireland Is Arrested On Stump

By UNITED PRESS

DALLAS, Aug. 15.—Gasoline price cutting spread to the east when the seaboard companies announced reductions of one and a half to two cents per gallon. The Standard Oil cut of 6.6 cents remains in effect in twelve mid-west states, saving consumers $1,000,000 daily. The governors of several states scored the price war as an attempt by the Standard to eliminate competition by crushing the independents. Governor Donahey of Ohio appealed to President Coolidge, charging the big companies with discriminating against Ohio by selling lower in the surrounding states.

Fight Manager Flynn Has Some Ideas

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Just recently, Jimmy Jones, a young welter weight from Youngstown, won a referee's decision in Boston from Dave Shade. The New York Boxing Commission, which had previously awarded the welterweight championship to Shade because Mickey Walker, the official champion, would not fight, was then put under the job of setting up a new champion.

Leo Flynn, manager of Shade, was called before the commission and asked if he could produce any reasons to show why his fighter had not lost the title.

Flynn is as crafty a manager as there is in the business, rather surprised the commissioners when he, with little fuss, said:

"If Shade had any claim to any kind of a title he certainly blew it when he blew that decision. Jimmy Jones is the champion."

Considering that the main idea of practically every boxer and every manager is to get a title and then hold it, the attitude taken by Flynn in passing away a championship without an argument was surprising.

Flynn has the largest string of boxers in the country and his earnings are said to average over $200,000 a year. He has to have some ideas to have made such a success of his business and some of his theories are unique.

"What did that title mean to us?" he asked, in explaining his ideas.

"There are only two titles that have any great value, the heavyweight and the lightweight championships. The others are mainly a bother and they cause a lot of trouble."

"There may be some glory and fame in being a champion or the manager of a champion, but there is a lot of grief with it. Say what they may, boxers and their managers are in the game purely as a business proposition. If not, why are they not amateurs? Smart boxers know that the fame they get out of championships is short-lived and that they are soon forgotten when they drop out of sight. Consider how many great fighters there have been in the past and how many of them are remembered today."

"Take the case of Dave Shade. He is the greatest drawing card in the ring outside of Dempsey and Leonard. He has had forty fights in the last two years, and because he fought often for good purses he finds himself at the age of twenty-one fixed for the rest of his days. In two more years he can retire for the rest of his days, if he wants to."

"Shade gets a lot of work because he draws better as the fighter who could beat the champion if he got a chance, then the champion who is always being held up by other managers as dodging their fighters."

"With no title to worry about, we can send Shade in any place with any referee, in any kind of a decision fight, as often and as for as much money as we want. If he loses a decision, it is forgotten after he has his next fight."

"With a title we would have to argue and fight about referees, weight forfeits and a hundred other things and just as soon as he lost the title or was jobbed out of it, he would cease to be such a drawing card. Former champions have little lustre."

"Since Shade is considered all over as the next man to the welterweight championship, we get more offers than we can handle and with our services so much in demand, we can raise our bid to a champion's price. Other managers, with 'hopes,' figure: 'If we can beat Shade we can make our fighter.' It all makes business for us."

SAVED SICK SPELLS

Black-Draught Found Valuable by a Texas Farmer, Who Has Keenly Appreciated It Over 30 Years.

Naples, Texas.—"I have used Thedford's Black-Draught for years—I can safely say for more than 30 years," declares Mr. B. H. Criner, a substantial, well-known farmer, residing out from here on Route 13.

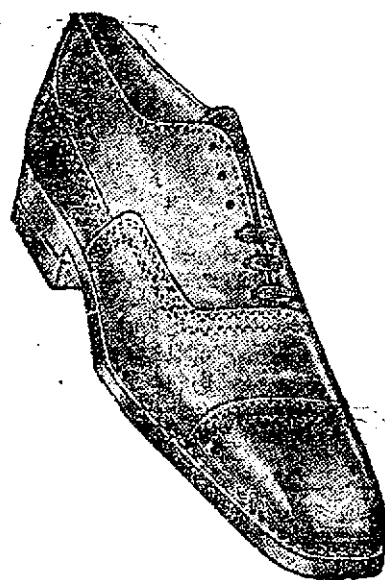

"I am 43 years old, and when a small boy I had indigestion and was puny and my father gave me a few regulators. Then Black-Draught was advertised and we heard of it."

"I began to take Black-Draught, and have used it ever since, ever since I use Black-Draught now in my home, and certainly recommend it for any liver trouble."

"I have given it a thorough trial, and after that I can say Black-Draught is my remedy. It has saved me many sick spells."

Mr. Criner writes that he is "never out of Black-Draught," and says several of his neighbors prefer it to any other liver medicine. "I always recommend Black-Draught to my friends," he adds.

This valuable, old, powdered liver medicine is free from medicinal ingredients, and has none of the bad effects commonly derived from the use of cathartics or other powerful mineral drugs. Be sure to get the genuine, Thedford's. NC-145

Unable to have Laddie Boy, her husband's pet Airedale dog, near her, a constant reminder of her happier days, when her husband was alive, Mrs. Warren G. Harding has presented the famous dog to Harry Barker, the Secret Service man who had been detailed to guard her while she was First Lady of the Land. The dog, which had been presented to Mr. Harding by Charles W. Quetsche, of Toledo, O., was as much a pet of Mrs. Harding as he was of the late President, but Mrs. Harding felt she could not stand having the splendid animal with her after her husband's death.

Shallow Field Believed Near Ramsey Lease

According to an opinion recently expressed by Mr. Anderson of the U. S. Tex Oil Corporation the new oil territory opened up by the big well on the S. D. Ramsey lease, south of the

Mildred road, in the Powell field, also bears great promise for shallow oil production. He declared that indications of oil had been encountered at various shallow depths in the deep well the company had just completed. Oil showings have been made in both the U. S. Tex well and the Smith well, offsetting it. Mr. Anderson said the strata of oil and gas showed up between 1,100 and 1,700 feet. A large quantity of oil found its way into the hole and was forced up between the six and five-eighths casing and the surface ten inch. Some little difficulty was experienced in getting by the shallow strata as the bit proceeded downward in search of the deep pay. In commenting on the shallow oil possibilities in this particular area, Mr. Anderson mentioned the fact that the Corsicana shallow fields had been producing for almost thirty years, and that the area embracing the territory in question had never been tested for shallow oil.

DEMOCRACY SPEAKS

The voice of democracy in Mexia has been heard. It spoke in no vague or indistinct terms at the polls in the municipal charter election Tuesday. During the last few days preceding the election, it was apparent that the new charter would fail to carry at this time. However, the overwhelming odds of more than 2 to 1 against it was a matter of surprise both to those who favored its immediate adoption and those who rejected it.

The results were a victory for Mayor Watson and an endorsement of his attitude on matters of public policy and government rather than opposition to the principle involved in a new charter for Mexia. The vote was in no wise a repudiation of the work of the splendid commission formed the charter commission. Many who voted against the charter in all likelihood would like to see Mexia operating under a different system of local government, but the time was opportune for them to assert that if they are to be governed by one man, they want to select that man themselves.

The public, today, is in no frame of mind to desire running the risk of extra burdens of taxation. Although, the new charter possibly was misunderstood regarding the tax rate, the public generally viewed that part of it referring to the rate with misgivings and doubt. There were other questions raised, too, indicating that the people wanted more light shed on the entire proposition, and since that light was not forthcoming, they acted with an idea of "safety first" and did the natural thing. 273 out of 549 voted against the charter.

Problems constantly confront Mexia. Today's victories or defeats but prepare for tomorrow's duties. Let's face them knowing that happiness is not in selfishness but in service; not in hate but in love.

With malice toward none and good will for all, every citizen to whom Mexia is dear, now, should lend a hand, cordially and in true fellowship and strive persistently for the betterment of Mexia. Let all Mexia remember that the men and women to make a city are themselves made by obedience; obedience to God; obedience to duty and obedience to truth, proving all things and holding fast to that which is good. Obedience is but self government in action and he can never govern a city who does not first govern himself.

Now the water situation is again uppermost!

THE LEGION IS FOR MEXIA

The Nowlin Post of the American Legion is to be represented at the state convention at Galveston the last three days of this month. Mexia as a live community in a patriotic section of a great state, will make an impression, through the delegation from here, which will be obvious to all who attend or to all who read about the great convention anticipated.

The Limestone county members of the local post will present the name

Martin Allday Visits Mexia From Eldorado

Martin Allday, formerly of Mexia, now of El Dorado, was a recent business visitor here. He was connected with the law firm of Allday, Dale and Allday. At El Dorado, he and his associates have organized the Allday Oil Corporation and now have two producing wells in the Smackover field. From these, the corporation is now getting about 500 barrels of production daily.

While here, Mr. Allday visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Dale. He was agreeably surprised to see the many miles of newly paved streets in the city, remarking concerning how fine they were and how greatly they had added to the splendid appearance of Mexia.

SPORTLIGHT

By W. R.
Joe Untz is making the other guardians of the hot bag in this loop get up and go for their money. Joe handled seven chances without an error. Showing up better than Frank Haley.

Joe Pate pulled the "iron man" stunt against Dallas yesterday and won a double bill from Morris's men taking the first 4 to 1 and the second 3 to 1.

As for Tom Pyle helping Sherman out a lot that is true, but not over here in this burg. If Mexia has to play Sherman for the rag at the last, the pitchers will not be afraid of Pyle. He had been on his rampage for about two weeks and when he arrived on the local grounds the twirlers had him swinging like an old maid, he got a little single in three games.

HELP

I want a mechanic with a good record To do a little work on a second hand Ford There ain't much the matter as you see below; It's just contrary and I can't make it go The front wheels wobble and one rear wheel squeaks The fenders rattle and the gas tank leaks, The cap for the radiator won't stay on, And a part of the carburetor is lost and gone.

There's a hump in the axle caused by rotten steel And something is the matter with the steering wheel When I pull off the road and try to get back The whole thing reverses and I fly the track. The cushions are worn till the springs stick through, And gouge all the seat of your pants off of you. The spark plugs are dirty and connections bad And a noisier motor no Ford ever had.

The crank shaft is crooked and the cylinders scored The transmission rattles against the lower floor board The clutch won't hold and the brake bands slip, And it takes a barrel of oil for a nine mile trip The wind shield is broken and the lights are dim And spokes all loose from riding the rim, The battery is weak and the starter won't start, And the rear end brows like it's coming apart.

Just fix up the things that I've spoken about, Never mind the tires—they're all worn out; Fact that's about all that really matters Except the hood that shimmies and chatters. There ain't much to do as you see from above, So fix me up quick and give me a shove, A barrel of oil and a quart of gas— Gang-way, Packard's—let me pass.

—Patterson.

Waco Manager Protests Game In The Seventh

The Gushers defeated the Waco Indians on the local lot yesterday in a game that was full of wrangling between players of both teams and ump. Manager Dupuy protested the game in the seventh inning on a decision by Umpire Hill on a ball that was hit down third base line.

The feature of the game was the playing of Don Flynn, erstwhile Irish Rose of the Indians. Donald played left field until the ump sent Stine Strickland out of the park with a ten dollar fine on him and then he took up the work at short. He held this position until the eighth inning and then he relieved Red Hill in the box and tickled the fans with his many antics. He shared honors with Joe Untz, a favorite of Jinx, who handled seven chances on the hot corner and made everyone perfect as could be Joe is giving White of Marlin a race for the best fielding third baseman in the loop. He is now playing a much better game than "Old Reliable" Frank Huley with the Corsicana Gumbo Busters.

Hub North put the game on ice for the Gushers in the seventh inning when, with Clopp on base, he lifted one of Red Hills slants over the right field wall for the circuit.

The Gushers have two more games at home and then they go to the Redskins Poo Woo grounds for two days.

Tide of Potential Mary Pickfords No Longer Surging Against the Walls Of Hollywood—Problem Is Easier

By ROBERT A. DONALDSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
CHAPTER I.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 15.—The department stores of Los Angeles are filled with pretty girl clerks who thought they were potential Mary Pickfords. Many a "second Gloria Swanson" is now chewing gum and punching a typewriter, as a stenographer in the office of a studio where she first went hoping to win her way to fame and fortune on the silver screen.

Fortunately, however, the tide of screen struck girls who come from all parts of the country to Hollywood has been checked.

Despite reports from tourists that everywhere girl hikers are "on their way to Hollywood," less of them are arriving than ever before in the history of the movie game.

Apparently the recent widespread publicity given to the small chance that a girl has to win fame in the movies and the starvation facts which confront her on arriving in Hollywood have taken effect.

Swamped With Girls

During the war and after the war up to the big movie slump of 1920, Hollywood and Los Angeles were literally swamped with would-be movie queens. New companies were springing up like mushrooms, and many of these aspirants to film fame actually found places where they obtained some degree of recognition. In some cases they became stars.

But the "roaring twenties" have gone, and the movies are now on a different and very much more efficient basis.

Casting directors and welfare workers are unanimous in declaring that, with the greatest talent and the best of looks and the rarest of luck, no unknown girl nowadays can hope to make even a small reputation in Hollywood inside of two years.

The Y. W. C. A., the city police mothers, and similar organizations obtained many of them jobs in department stores, in stores and offices, or, if they knew typing, as stenographers. Others were rescued by friends or parents who sent the price of a return ticket back home.

Since that time producers have aimed to spread the truth over the country that the average, unknown girl has only about one chance in a thousand to make a living in the movies.

"Our problems have greatly decreased in the last two years," said one police mother. "Before that, morals were more lax in the movies, and besides, so many girls came who, unable to make a living in the movies, took in desperation what they believed to be an easier way. Now movie morals have improved somewhat, and the girls are arriving in smaller numbers and I believe are of a better type."

For the first time in the history

of motion pictures, the colorful life of southeastern Roumania—the home of the Tartar and gypsy—has been filmed in "The Law of the Lawless," Dorothy Dalton's latest Paramount picture, which will be on view of the National theatre for two days commencing today.

Gypsy stories have been filmed but never in the colorful setting of Dobrudja, the little-known and romantic Roumanian province which numbers many native gypsy tribes among its inhabitants. Konrad Bercovici, a gypsy author, wrote the story of "The Law of the Lawless" for the screen from his own personal experience in his native land.

Bercovici's story tells of a Tartar girl, daughter of an impoverished householder, who is sold on the auction block to pay her father's debt. She is bought by a gypsy chief who marries her by the colorful gypsy ceremony, but who respects her dislike of him.

The girl's Tartar sweetheart attempts to rescue her but proves himself a coward in the crisis while the gypsy chieftain shows himself a fair and courageous fighter. The girl's liking for her Tartar lover gives way to a new love for the gypsy. Their chief captured by the Tartars, the gypsies, led by the girl wife, attack the Tartar village in a fierce hand-to-hand fight. The money lender who sold the girl meets his death, the gypsy chief conquers the Tartar youth in a fierce struggle in a blazing minaret and the girl proves her love.

for her husband. Peace brings renewed prosperity for her father and friendly relations between the warring factions.

Romance, drama and stirring action are packed into every scene of the story. Dorothy Dalton gives a superb characterization of the hot-headed, high-spirited Tartar girl and she is ably supported by Theodore Kosloff in the role of the Tartar lover and Charles de Roche as the gypsy chief. The latter makes his first American appearance in this picture. Tully Marshall is also featured.

LOG RAFT IS WEATHER PROFIT
BONIFACE, Mich.—Only a lake full of cedar logs; but the people of this city will bet their last cent on it as an accurate barometer of the weather.

During the last fifteen years, as far back to the time when cedar logs were first dumped into Bass Lake, along whose shores Bonifance is located, this barometer has never been known to fail, citizens say.

Bass Lake has for many years had millions of feet of cedar logs floating in it. These logs were cut by the Bonifance Lumber company and dumped into the lake until the sawmill was ready for them. The water keeps them from rotting.

Ordinarily this great mass of logs lies along the edge of the lake forming a belt about 50 to 75 feet wide. Always within about fourteen hours of a rain the logs will start to act queerly. Single logs will break away from the mass around the shores and drift slowly out into the middle of the lake.

What causes these logs to do this, or what causes the whole number along the shore to loosen up from the usual compact mass, no one has been able to explain. It is not a current in the water, for the lake is too small to have currents. It is not the wind that causes these logs to break away—they do it when there is not a breath of air stirring.

RESCUE WORKERS BUSY BRINGING OUT THE DEAD

KEMMERER, Wyo., Aug. 15.—The toll of lives lost in the explosion in Frontier Mine No. 1, of the Kemmerer Coal Company Tuesday morning is expected to exceed 100.

More than fifty bodies have been brought out.

Dawn found wearied rescue workers still toiling in the tumbled shaft where bodies of helplessly trapped miners lay piled in a gruesome mass against the tons of wreckage that formed a barrier against their escape after the blast.

Most of the lives were lost nearly a mile below ground. There was a terrific explosion which resulted in a cave-in on several lower levels and poisonous gases swept through the shafts, snuffing out lives of the imprisoned workers.

Bodies were brought to the surface at intervals throughout the night and carried by rescue squads to temporary morgues where frantic relatives of men who might be dead or missing clamored about. Thirty-seven men escaped alive from the gas-laden shafts and these quickly recovered. An accurate check of the number of missing was impossible until late today officials said. They believe that approximately 140 miners were under ground when the explosion occurred.

It is believed that a gas explosion occurred, followed by a tumbling of tons of earth, cutting off about five score miners. The blast was not heard on the surface but when the news of it spread, rescue parties from surrounding camps and a Government rescue car were quickly on the scene. It was five and a half hours after the explosion before any of the survivors came to the surface but to the joy of relatives and those gathered anxiously at the mouth of the mine, they were alive. The joy was short lived, however, for it was announced by experienced rescue workers that practically no chance remained for those still entombed.

Those who went into the gas-laden mine during the night fought their way through debris, fallen timbers and rock and earth to the scene of the blast with the greatest difficulty. They found evidence that a desperate panic under ground had caused many deaths.

In some instances, apparently groups of miners, fear-maddened by the blast, had rushed blindly about until they encountered the deadly gases that were piled up hopelessly against an impenetrable barrier and had struggled.

Survivors told of one instance where the coolness of one veteran miner saved 28. This old-timer kept his comrades with him in a "room" that was free from gas; they were brought out alive; those that ran from the protected spot into the shaft met gas and fell dead.

The dead were charred beyond recognition, indicating that an intense flame had shot and scared its way through the underground shaft turning tunnels and passageways into an inferno.

Removal of the victims to the Odd Fellows hall, turned hastily into a morgue, in Kemmerer was slow. As the cars came up the main shaft from below with their tragic freight the 1500 watchers—mothers, sweethearts, wives and fathers—surged through the guard.

The cargoes were more grim because on several caps of dead miners the electric mine lamps still burned casting weird shadows about.

Transfer of the bodies was also slow. The rough roads are choked with townspeople, relatives and curious. The trip from Kemmerer to the mine by the death wagons takes an hour.

SCOREBOARD

Dave Bancroft, playing his first game since June 23, stole home and scored the run that gave the Giants a 3 to 2 victory over the Robins.

With three successive doubles, Ty Cobb led the attack against two pitchers and the Tigers beat the Athletics, 7 to 2.

Two homers by Adams helped the Cubs take two games from the Braves; 6 to 1, and 5 to 4.

Seven runs in the eighth inning helped the Phillies win a weird game from the Pirates, 16 to 10.

NEW COALITION

industry and a necessary symbol of the Nation's material accomplishments.

The Chancellor attributed internal confusion to a breaking of the popular nerve.

"Nothing is so bad for a nation as to not know its future," he said. "But a people with the great past of Germany need not fear. We still have the power to carve out our own destiny."

Throwing a warning to France, Stresemann said it would not be safe to press the German people too far. Disruption, he said, would mean Bolshevism, a poison that "would not halt within German borders."

Dr. Cuno, it was reported, has been mentioned as new German Ambassador for Washington, a post he probably would accept.

Berlin continued quiet today after a minor clash in Frankfurter avenue last night in which one man was wounded seriously when police fired on a crowd of demonstrators.
